Of Interest to Libraries

THE SEWANEE REVIEW is carrying on the best traditions of The Southern Literary Messenger, De Bow's Review, and other well-known literary journals of the Old South, and is playing an important rôle in helping to stimulate Southern thought and Southern letters. Its thirty-odd volumes form a rich storehouse of literary essays and literary criticism, ready access to which is to be had through Poole's Index and the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature.

THE REVIEW goes into the following college and university libraries: Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Johns Hopkins, Columbia, Vermont, Tulane, Mississippi, Virginia, Florida, Davidson, Oberlin, Bryn Mawr, Washington and Lee, Leland Stanford, California, Kansas, Kentucky, Iowa, Amherst, Colorado, Minnesota, Missouri, Vassar, North Carolina, South Carolina, Indiana, Illinois, Louisiana, General Theological Seminary, Ohio State, Miami, Oregon, Wofford, Clemson, William and Mary, Washington State, Cornell, Vanderbilt, Texas, Alabama Polytechnic, besides many other public, private, and Normal School libraries throughout the country.

Containing articles on varied topics of literary and educational interest contributed by men and women who write with authority and attractive style, THE SEWANEE REVIEW deserves a place in the reading-room of every school, college, and public library in the Nation.

Every library should strive to train the public in refined taste and critical appreciation. Especially during this time of storm and stress should libraries take advantage of our people's serious mood to encourage steadiness, soberness, and selectiveness in their reading,—habits which mean so much for enlightened minds and worthy character.

YOUR LIBRARY cannot afford to do without THE SEWANEE REVIEW, and we trust that you will send us your subscription without delay.

PUBLICATIONS

TELL IT IN GATH. By JOSEPH A. OSGOODE. Cloth, 8 vo, pp. 215. Price, postpaid, $1.50.

The evident intention of the book is, first, to controvert the idea that New England Puritanism is or has been the keystone of the arch of American greatness, and, second, to show the part the South took in the building.

NEW ERA DECLAMATIONS. By Dean Benjamin Brawley. Boards, paper covered, pp. 108. Price, postpaid, 85¢.

Selections, modern, American, and humanitarian, with a Brief Talk on Public Speaking, and Biographical Notes of the Authors.

INTER-AMERICAN ACQUAINTANCES. By Charles Lyon Chandler. Second Edition, cloth, 12 mo., pp. viii, 187. Price, postpaid, $1.25.

Legions of critics have pronounced it worth while and a book to last.

FOUR WEEKS IN THE MIDST OF THINGS. By Prof. John N. Ware. Paper covers, pp. 165. Price, postpaid, 75¢.

Diary at the outbreak of the War when the author was in Paris. Interesting, and becoming more so.

STUDIES IN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

- No. 1.—British Criticisms of American Writings. 1783-1815. By William B. Cairns. Price, 50 cents.

A survey of British comment on American books during the nascent period of American national life, looking forward to an investigation into all aspects of the relations between the intellectual elements of the two nations during the first fifty years of American independence.

- No. 2.—Studies by Members of the English Department. Price, $1.00.

A volume of miscellaneous papers in various fields of English scholarship; dedicated to Professor F. G. Hubbard on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entering the service of the University.

- No. 5.—Classical Studies in Honor of Charles Forster Smith, by his colleagues. Price, $1.00.

In Preparation

The Position of the Roope en Witte Roos in the Saga of King Richard III, by O. J. Campbell.

Goethe's Lyric Poems in English Translation prior to 1860, by Lucretia Van Tuyl Simmons.

STUDIES IN HISTORY AND THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

- No. 1.—The Colonial Citizen of New York City, by Robert Francis Seybolt. Price, 50 cents.

A source-study of the essential characteristics of citizenship practice in colonial New York City, indicating by documentary evidence the medieval English ancestry of the citizen of to-day.

Orders should be sent to the SECRETARY OF THE REGENTS, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin.

The Theology of Personality

By WILLIAM SAMUEL BISHOP, D.D.
Author of The Development of Trinitarian Doctrine and Spirit and Personality.

The author's standpoint is that of Anglican Christianity, in which both the Catholic and Protestant factors are included. One of the distinctive features of the work is the effort made, by the application of the psychological method, to interpret the doctrine of the Trinity to the mind of the present day. The distinction is drawn between Catholic dogma in itself and certain unsound developments which are in evidence both in Greek and Latin Catholicism. Written in a clear and readable style, it is a book which deals with many of the important issues that are before the Church today.
